Four rules to go

– 1 –

Respect designated wildlife areas and wildlife reserves

– 2 –

Stay on paths and designated routes in the forest

– 3 –

Avoid forest edges and snow-free surfaces

– 4 –

Keep your dog on a lead, particularly in the forest

Before your next excursion, find out about quiet areas and wildlife protection sites:
natur-freizeit.ch/snow-sports-and-respect

Find out more about designated wildlife areas and wildlife reserves before your next trip at
natur-freizeit.ch/snow-sports-and-respect

«Respect to protect» is a fauna protection campaign backed by many actors in the fields of sports, trade, tourism, and nature and game protection. It is sponsored by the Federal Office for the Environment (FOEN), the Swiss Cantons and the member organisations of the association «Natur & Freizeit».

SNOW SPORTS AND RESPECT
Respect to Protect